Think It's Breast Cancer? Think Again

MYTH

VS

FACT

Only women with a family history are at risk.

85% of breast cancer cases occur in women with no family history.

Mammograms are painful and risky.

They're quick, safe, and can save lives through early detection.

A lump always means cancer.

Around 80% of breast lumps are benign, caused by non-cancerous conditions like cysts or fibroadenomas.

Men can't get breast cancer.

Though rare, men can develop breast cancer too.

Are You Supporting Your Bones?

- Do you stand up and stretch every 30–40 minutes to keep your joints happy?
- Do you include sesame seeds, ragi, or tofu — hidden bone heroes — in your meals?
- Do you get 10–15 minutes of morning sunlight? (that's when Vitamin D is most effective)
- Do you know your caffeine count — more than 3 cups a day can sneak away calcium?
- Do you do any weight-bearing activities like brisk walking, climbing stairs, or dancing at least 3 times a week?
- Do you check your posture?
Are your shoulders aligned when you sit or stand?
